

FAREWELL EDITION

As school comes to an end, I never imagined I would feel this mix of gloom and happiness, the perfect example of a bittersweet memory. I may no longer have the same people by my side with whom I began these twelve years of my journey. Faces have changed, bonds have shifted, and even the pace of life feels different. A lot has changed too in the way I measure time, from counting the years to graduation to now counting just a few months left. Yet, through all of it, I have learnt more than any subject could ever teach me.

I have realized that school is not just about a building or classrooms. It is about the bonds we form, the laughter we share, the tears we shed, and the countless memories etched into every corner of the campus.

I may not be a completely different person, but I am someone with a new outlook on life. These years gave me more than I could have asked for, countless opportunities, lessons, and moments that will stay with me forever.

I joined Delhi Public School, Kalyanpur, just two years ago as a new student, unsure of what awaited me. I never imagined being accepted so warmly, not just as a student but as a friend. This kindness and support have made these years truly unforgettable. I came with nothing to prove, yet I leave with everything that truly matters: love, respect, friendships and a sense of belonging. A year or two can truly change everything.

As we part ways and step into new beginnings, we will feel the same mix of hope and fear. We'll try to blend in with others, find our way, learn from every experience, and just like we did here, we'll learn to find our place again.

Fariha Kashef
XII H1

As this memorable chapter of our school draws to a close, I can't help but flip through the pages with a familiar ache, reminiscing about the years that seemed to have gone by in the blink of an eye. The same classroom that once felt endless now feels like a fleeting moment. I wish I could pause just a little longer.

I used to dread waking up at 6 a.m. for school, but the sleep would instantly vanish the moment I met my friends and lost myself in an endless stream of conversations and laughter as we walked through the corridors, stopping to greet every familiar face along the way. Those mornings, though chaotic, had a certain magic to them, a kind of warmth that only comes from being surrounded by people who made even the earliest hours worth it.

I remember arriving at school after COVID-19, unsure of what to expect. Faces that had once been just names on a screen slowly became friends, and those first awkward steps quickly gave way to laughter and shared secrets. I would've never thought some of those people would become the best parts of my time here, be it doodling in each other's notebooks and hoping the teacher wouldn't notice, or quietly sneaking glances during an exam only to catch the same expression of "we should've studied more" and sharing a silent laugh before returning to our papers.

Some of my best memories include me and my friends trying desperately to hide our laughter in the middle of class, avoiding each other's eyes because we knew that the second our gazes met, we'd completely lose it, or choosing the longest path possible to reach whichever class we had next, so we could steal a few extra minutes of laughter. Then there were the moments when the teacher allowed us to talk as long as we did it quietly, often joining in the fun themselves, chatting or joking with us as if they were one of us.

It's hard to put into words what it means to leave behind such a special place, the amazing teachers, the friends who became family, and the corridors that once felt ordinary but now seem to echo with years of laughter, chaos, and comfort, and not to forget the bus rides home filled with noise as everyone tried to rant about their day as fast as they could before reaching their stop.

As the final bell approaches, I wish time could slow just enough to hold on to the laughter, the chaos, and the quiet moments that made this place feel like home. We're just turning the page, not closing the book. It's not the school years we'll remember, but the fragments: a shared smile, an inside joke, the warmth of being understood. I hope we don't become strangers with memories later in life; until then, I'll cherish the silly drawings in the back of my notebooks.

Gargi Verma
XII S3

Some chapters don't end; they are meant to last forever, and the hardest part of the ending of a chapter is that we can't go back, even if we want to.

The times when we used to think, "When will our school end?" suddenly came to a stop. If I had the choice to reverse time, I would have probably chosen to go back to the years where I could be whatever I wanted to be. Even though it was a short journey, school for me became not just the place where I went every morning, but unlocked a whole new world where I glowed up, messed up, and most importantly, grew up. I could realize the kind of potential I had, scaling the heights of leadership. To my juniors, thank you for being with me during my hardest times. Keep working hard, as always. Love you all! To my batchmates, thank you for shaping me; I couldn't have cherished the friendships I now have without you. Soar as high as you can, reach new heights, and stay connected. To my teachers, your teachings, support, and guidance will always stay with us. Thank you for your determination and resilience in helping me reach my potential. As this chapter closes, I shall carry with me the laughter that echoed within these red walls and the friendships that shaped me. This school and these people will always be my home, where I shall always return.

With love and gratitude
Divyankit Manchanda
XII-S6

My journey at DPS Kalyanpur has been truly transformative. When I first walked into the school as a shy introvert, I could never have imagined the confident and expressive person I would grow into. Over the years, the school's nurturing environment, supportive teachers, and countless opportunities changed me. Whether in academics, competitions, assemblies, or group activities, each experience gradually pushed me out of my comfort zone. DPS Kalyanpur didn't just help me find myself; it taught me to be it myself. From hesitating to participate in conversations to starting conversations and from average performance to steady academic growth, every year improved my personality and my abilities. Today, as I complete Class 12, I can proudly say that my school has played a defining role in turning me into what I am today.

Aradhya Jain
XII-C1

VOICES ACROSS BATCHES

To the Class of 2026, to the staff, and to the entire DPSK community,

It feels like yesterday that I was sitting in the same seats you are now, a mix of excitement, terror, and pure anticipation. Now that I'm an alumni, and while my daily schedule looks very different, the memory of those final, bittersweet days at school is as vivid as ever. I'm writing this because I know exactly how you feel. You've crossed the finish line of a huge chapter in your life. You have mastered the art of getting garlic noodles from the extremely busy canteen, developed an innate ability to cram your bag with a full set of sports gear, 5 textbooks, your lunch box and water bottle, all in one. You've figured out the exact 60 second window between classes when you can manage to use the restroom, go around the block, and come back before the teacher does. And finally, now that you're anxiously waiting for your boards, somehow, you've already made it. But this isn't just a graduation, it's a launch. And while the world waiting outside the school gates is massive and unpredictable, trust me when I say that you are ready for it.

You might think you'll forget the trigonometry formulas, the historical dates, and the complex chemistry formulas, maybe you will. But here is what I promise you'll carry for the rest of your life: the power of resilience. You didn't just pass your classes, you learned to manage stress, bounce back from a disappointing grade, and stay up late to finish something you cared about. That ability to persist is the most valuable skill you've learned. The depth of your bonds, the friends you've made here are more than classmates. They are the people who saw you at your most awkward moments, celebrated your biggest wins, and picked you up after your toughest losses. Hold onto them. Your school friends will be your anchors in the years to come. The confidence to ask for help, think about all the times a teacher or a mentor stayed after class, or a classmate explained a tricky concept. This school has taught all of us that asking for help isn't a weakness, it's the smartest way to grow. Take that lesson with you into college, your career, and beyond.

To the Class of 2026, take a moment today to look around your school one last time. Feel the weight of the memories you've made within these walls, and then without looking back, step boldly into your future. We, your alumni family, are so incredibly proud of you.

Congratulations and all the very best!

Anaya Katiyar
Cognic Club President
2024-2025

DPSK '26 batch, how are you all doing? It's been just a couple of months since I finished school, and it feels surreal to think that those who gave us a farewell with all their might, are expecting one from their juniors soon, too. Makes us feel oddly nostalgic. But we get it, the feeling of going to college, not knowing what's going to happen next. Right now, it's boards, then it's the entrance tests, and applying to different institutions. As overwhelming as it feels, trust me when I say this, it's as exciting as it is stressful. Being away from school, from home, for such a short time might not tell me enough that I can share the experience with you and tell you what it's like, but the lack of familiarity always lingers, which isn't necessarily a bad thing. It helps you learn new things and appreciate what you never thought you would. But if you ever want to escape and come back, just remember what you did here, the teachers who mentored you, and your friends, seniors, and juniors with whom you spent so much time. I think it's important to trace your steps back to where you came from, and especially your last year there, which helps to know what you have achieved and what more you are capable of, just so in the back of your mind, you know that you can do it.

Regardless of all the hardships, it's safe to say that beyond all the hard work and sweat lies an acme that I, and all your seniors, know you'll be able to achieve. Just keep believing and bringing life to everything you experience.

Aradhya Himmatramka
Head Boy
2024-2025

It is astonishing how heavy a goodbye can feel. It feels almost impossible to find words worthy of those who made this place feel so alive. You were the laughter that broke the monotony, the calm amid chaos, the heartbeat in the humdrum of daily life. Now, as you prepare to leave, a silence lingers, not of absence, but of reverence. It is as though the walls themselves know that something vital is changing. As the outgoing batch prepares to depart, the entire school seems to be holding its breath. Saying farewell to you is not just the end of a chapter; it is the closing of an era that has touched everyone who had the privilege of being a part of it. You were never just seniors. You were the guiding force, the steady flame lighting the way for everyone who came after you. From afar, I watched your discipline, quiet strength, and the way you brought calm into chaos. Without even realizing it, you taught us how to become better versions of ourselves. You carried responsibility with a grace that made leadership look effortless. In the small, unnoticed moments such as offering encouragement before a competition or quietly helping someone who was struggling, your true impact was revealed. Your guidance showed me that leadership is not about being the loudest voice in the room, but about listening, supporting, and lifting others. You taught us that teamwork is more than dividing tasks. It is sharing purpose, responsibility, and even the pressure so no one feels alone. You showed patience, humility, and kindness in every situation. As you step into college and the wider world, carry the legacy, the lessons, and the memories of DPSK with you. You earned every achievement through perseverance, focus, and determination. This farewell is not just a moment of sadness; it is a celebration of everything you have accomplished and everything that lies ahead. It hurts to see you leave, yet there is immense pride in knowing you are moving forward to embrace new experiences. I am deeply grateful to have learned from you and witnessed your journey. Thank you for turning ordinary days into lasting memories and for teaching us the value of discipline, perseverance, kindness, and hard work. Your presence will be deeply missed, but the lessons, laughter, and inspiration you leave behind will remain with us always. Wishing you all the best in your future ventures. You will be missed dearly.

Gargi Sharma
XI-C

There isn't much left to add to the heartfelt notes already written for the outgoing batch. Everyone has spoken about memories, beginnings, and the ache of goodbyes, and every word of it stands true. Yet some farewells feel personal enough to ask for a few more lines, especially when they are meant for people who changed more than just our days; they shaped the way we grew.

This message is for the seniors who made even the most ordinary moments matter, the ones who showed up when it counted, stayed back when no one else did, helped without being asked, and quietly turned school life into something unforgettable. They were never just seniors, they were examples, anchors, and sometimes the reason many of us believed we were capable of more.

Through The Nyayārth Club, I was fortunate to see what real leadership looks like. I learnt that leadership is not about being the loudest voice in the room, but the one that listens with the deepest intention. I saw that teamwork is not the division of tasks, but the sharing of purpose, responsibility, and yes, even stress so no one feels alone. I learnt that patience often outlives pressure, and that kindness paired with confidence can lead with a strength that surprises you.

In every meeting, every discussion, every last minute plan, they taught me how to lead with humility and how to follow with understanding. They made leadership feel real, reachable, and human.

As you step beyond these familiar corridors, the ones that held your laughter, your debates, your rushed mornings, and your classic five more minutes please, know that you are leaving behind much more than memories. You are leaving behind a way of working, a way of treating people, and a way of carrying responsibility that will guide those who remain.

The juniors you leave behind may miss your presence, but we will carry your sincerity, your humour, your generosity, and your heart into everything we do. And if I ever learn to lead even half as well as you did, it will be because of what I learnt from you.

Thank you for everything. You will be missed more than these pages can hold and remembered far more than you imagine.

Ahmad Zafar
XI-C3

FROM THE MENTORS

As another academic year draws to a close, we find ourselves once again at that poignant juncture when our students prepare to take flight into the wider world. Each farewell reminds us that education is not confined to classrooms or examinations, but is a lifelong pursuit of growth, understanding, and purpose.

As educators, seeing our students transform into confident, curious, and caring individuals who contribute meaningfully to society, is the greatest satisfaction. Every learner who walks through the corridors of our school carries with them not only knowledge but also countless experiences that shape their moments of challenge, triumph, doubt, and discovery. These experiences become the foundation upon which they build their future.

As you step into the wider world, remember that the essence of true education lies in empathy, in understanding perspectives different from your own, in helping those who may need your support, and in making a positive difference wherever life takes you.

May your journey ahead be bright, purposeful, and fulfilling, and may you continue to learn, to question, to dream, and to grow. The future, after all, belongs to those who learn not just to excel, but to understand, uplift, and inspire.

I wish you success in all that you do.
With pride and best wishes,
Ms. Shalini Chaturvedi

Dear students,

As you embark on the next chapter of your lives, hold on to the lessons learned here; the lessons that go beyond textbooks. Treasure the memories you have created, and carry the values you have embraced into the world.

May all your dreams be fulfilled, and may you succeed in every endeavour of life. I extend my heartfelt wishes for your continued success and happiness.

Ms. Anjali Dhesi

Dear Children,

Your consistent efforts and dedication towards this examination are commendable. May your hard work be duly rewarded with success. Enter the examination hall with confidence, focus, and determination, and give your best performance. Believe in your abilities, and success will surely be yours. May you be blessed with excellence and achievement in abundance.

Best of luck!

Ms. Radhika Gulati

Dear Class 12,

As you leave this chapter of your lives behind, I want to wish you all the very best. Watching you learn, grow, and mature over the years has been a true joy. You have all worked incredibly hard, and you deserve all the success that comes your way. Remember that challenges will come, but so will the strength to overcome them. Stay true to yourselves, follow your passions, and never stop believing in your own potential. We will miss seeing your faces in the classrooms but we are excited to see you soar.

All the best
Ms. Alka Mehrotra

My dear children,

As you step out from our school into the big world, cherish the stories, lessons, and laughs we shared. Believe in your dreams, work hard, stay kind, and learn from every stumble. I am so proud of each one of you. Shine bright, stay connected. All the very best for your new journey!

Ms. Rashmi Shukla

To my dear students,

As you move on to new beginnings, I want you to know how proud I am of each and every one of you. Your journey here has been remarkable, and the memories we've created will stay with me forever. Your respect and love have made teaching a joy. Continue to uphold the values of our school, and let your success be a reflection of the hard work and dedication you've shown. I'll miss you all, but I'm excited to see the incredible things you'll achieve. You will always remain in my heart. Keep in touch, and never forget that you carry a piece of our school's spirit with you.

Best wishes for a bright future!

With heartfelt gratitude,

Ms. Anuradha Sengar

Believe. Focus. Shine.

You've got this! Examinations are around the corner; henceforth, you need to remember that they are not a monster to fear, but only a challenge to conquer with the right plan. You do not need stress; you need strategy! Here is an action plan to keep you on track:

Chunk it down: Big syllabus? Break it into small, manageable daily goals.

Focus sprints: Study for 40–50 minutes, then take a short break. It works like magic!

Mix and match: Do not only study difficult topics. Revise easier ones too, for a confidence boost.

Mock it up: Practise a few papers within exam-like timing; it is the best confidence hack.

Recharge: Sleep well, eat right, and move a little.

A fresh mind works faster than a tired one, and remember, examinations are just stepping stones, not the final destination. You are far greater than a few sheets of answers. Walk in with a calm mind, trust your preparation, and let your hard work speak for itself.

Stress less, plan smart, shine bright!

Good Luck,
Ms. Aparna Puri

Dear Students of Class 12,

As you prepare to leave these familiar halls and step into a new chapter, know that we are proud of the young adults you have become. The years you have spent within these classrooms and corridors have been a journey of learning, laughter, and growth. You now carry with you not only knowledge, but also memories, friendships, and the values that will guide you along the many paths ahead.

The board examinations before you are only a stepping stone, not a measure of your worth. Though you may move forward, you will always remain an integral part of this school's story. From this day onwards, you will be seen as the ambassadors of our school, so step ahead with courage and kindness, and keep faith in yourselves. Our blessings and best wishes will always be with you.

With heartfelt pride,

Ms. Shaista Anjum Malik

Dear Children,

As you step out into the world, remember that every ending is a new beginning. You've blossomed from curious learners to confident dreamers, ready to write your own success stories.

"The road is life," and the journey ahead will be filled with wonder, discovery, and adventure. Carry the lessons, laughter, and love we've shared, and let them illuminate your path.

Shine bright, chase your passions, and make your mark. Your alma mater will forever be proud of the incredible individuals you've become.

With love, blessings, and best wishes for a bright future
Your Teacher

Ms. Shalini Mohan

MESSAGES

My Dear Students,

As you get ready for your board exams, I want you to pause for a moment and appreciate how far you've come. You have learned, unlearned, and relearned. You have grown academically and emotionally. You have shown resilience, curiosity, and grace, the qualities that matter far beyond the pages of a textbook. In the coming days, stay calm, stay consistent, and stay confident. Approach each paper with a clear mind and a brave heart. Marks matter, but your mental peace and honesty matter more. Always remember your dreams are valid, your potential is limitless, and your journey has just begun. The world is waiting for your ideas, your talent, and your courage. May your hard work bring you wonderful results, and may your future be as bright as your determination. All the best for your exams, go forward and shine!

Ms. M. Hussain

Dear Students,

The time is drawing near when our paths will gently diverge, and each of you will carry a tapestry of memories woven with laughter, learning, and love.

As you step into new journeys, may your light shine brighter than ever before, and may you rise above every challenge life places in your way, with courage in your stride, and dreams in your eyes.

Ms. Ambapali Gupta

Dear Students,

As you step beyond these familiar walls, remember that education was never just about lessons and marks, but about the stories you lived, the friendships you built, and the challenges that shaped you.

Goodbyes are never easy, but they remind us that every ending is also a beginning. Carry with you curiosity, resilience, and kindness wherever you go. Achievements will matter, but let your true measure be in the honesty of your choices, the warmth you share, and the courage with which you walk your path. This is not an end, but the start of a new chapter. Step into it with confidence and hope.

Ms. Ratnpriya Mishra

Time is like sand that slips so easily through our fingers. It is indeed hard to imagine that our dear students are now ready to bid us adieu. The precious moments of trials and achievements remain etched in our memories. We cherish and revere those moments that make us smile at the innocent pranks, and the gratitude that came our way. At this emotional moment, I would like to say that may all your dreams come true, and may each one of you soar high like proud eagles, winning accolades and creating a name that will stand the test of time. God bless you all, now and always.

Ms. Rashmi Mohan

Dear Students,

Wishing you all the very best as you step into this important phase. I know it may feel overwhelming at times, but remember to stay calm, stay focused and above all, believe in yourselves. You have worked hard, shown dedication, and now it is time to trust your preparation.

Take one step at a time, breathe through the stress, and remember to take short breaks to recharge. You are capable of achieving remarkable things, and this is only the beginning. Good luck, you have got this!

Ms. Neelu Atri

Dear Students,

Your dreams are the spark that ignites the fire of success. Nurture those flames and never let them fade. Life is full of challenges, but it also offers countless opportunities. Be brave, be resilient, and seize every chance that comes your way. Always remember: those who try; never truly fail. Keep growing, keep striving, and continue moving forward.

Wishing you all a bright and successful future.

Mr. Nitin Bhatia

Dear Children,

Even the fastest runner gets lost without a map. Move with purpose, not just haste, because the right direction will always take us farther than speed alone.

Mr. Akash Shukla

Dear Students,

As you prepare for your final examinations, I wish you all the best for your upcoming challenges. Remember that strategic preparation through effective planning is the key to success. Make a study schedule, adhere to it, and review your notes regularly.

Keep in mind that in examinations, presentation matters as well, whether in theoretical or calculative answers. Ensure your responses are clear, concise, and well-structured. Read the questions carefully, manage your time wisely, and attempt all questions to the best of your ability.

Stay calm, focused, and confident. Believe in yourself and your abilities. Your hard work and dedication will surely be rewarded.

Wishing you success and a bright future ahead!

Mr. Ramesh Mishra

As I bid farewell to our twelfth-grade students, I am filled with both pride and nostalgia. Over the years, I have witnessed these young minds grow and evolve. From being small children to becoming confident individuals, they are now ready to embrace the world. DPS Kalyanpur has played a significant role in their holistic development, shaping them into capable and compassionate human beings.

As they move forward, I wish them every success in realising their dreams and aspirations. May they become accomplished entrepreneurs, professionals, and leaders who make a meaningful impact on society. I wholeheartedly congratulate the Class of 2026 on this milestone and extend my best wishes for a future filled with promise and achievements.

Mr. Farhan Ahmed

Dear Students,

Watching you grow through these years has been a journey filled with joy, pride, and countless memories. Now, as you prepare to step into a world of new opportunities, remember that while knowledge grants you power, it is your character that will earn you respect and love. Hold on to honesty, kindness, and humility because they will guide you through both triumphs and trials.

Never measure life solely by what you achieve, but also by the goodness you spread and the lives you touch. You have been a source of immense pride and joy to us, and though you are leaving the school, you will always remain a part of its heart. May you continue to shine, grow, and make this world a brighter place.

Ms. Priyambda Chauhan

I am both proud, and deeply moved to watch our students embark on a new chapter in their lives as another school year draws to a close. From chemistry, we learn that although change is inevitable, it also opens the door to new possibilities. Your future rests on the relationships you have built, the knowledge you have gained, and the obstacles you have overcome.

Carry forward the self-control, perseverance, and compassion you have cultivated here. I wish you the very best as you step into your next journey, along with my heartfelt blessings and good wishes.

Mr. Shailendra Singh

MESSAGES

Dear students,

As you embark upon a new endeavour, I wish you success in every aspect of your life. Over the years, I have seen you grow in knowledge, character, confidence, and kindness. Your school journey has shaped you and instilled values, knowledge, and resilience that will always help you figure out the solution to every challenge life throws at you. Keep learning, keep growing, and always believe in yourselves. You are capable of achieving great heights.

Mr. Raj Kumar Tripathi

As you approach your board examinations, I want to remind you that diligence, consistency, and confidence are your most powerful tools for success. Mathematics is not merely about memorization but about comprehending concepts and engaging in thorough practice. Remain focused, approach problems methodically, and manage your time with precision. Remember, every effort contributes to progress, and true success comes to those who persevere. Have faith in yourself. I have complete confidence in your capabilities. My best wishes are with you for your upcoming examinations.

Mr. Dheeraj Srivastava

It is with immense pride and warm hearts that we bid farewell to our students as they embark on a new journey filled with aspirations and opportunities. Your time here has been marked by dedication, learning, and unforgettable memories. As you step into the next phase of your life, remember to embrace challenges with courage, and pursue your goals with determination. On behalf of the school, we extend our best wishes for your success, happiness, and growth. May you continue to shine bright and make us proud always!

Ms. Piyush Srivastava

Dear Students,

Wishing you all the best as you begin the next chapter of your life. Keep learning, stay curious, and believe in yourselves. The future is yours to create!

Warm regards,

Mr. Himanshu Shukla

Dear Students,

As you step out of the familiar corridors of your school life, and prepare to embrace new horizons, I extend my best wishes to each one of you. May you carry forward the knowledge, discipline, and values you have imbibed here, and let them guide you in every walk of life. The board examinations ahead are an important milestone; face them with confidence, sincerity, and perseverance. Remember, success is not only about achieving high marks but also about upholding integrity, humility, and resilience. Be proud ambassadors of your school, live by the values you have learned, and strive to do exemplary work wherever life takes you. May your journey be filled with success, wisdom, and happiness.

Good luck, and may you shine bright always!

Ms. Sarana Nathani

A farewell is not just a goodbye, but a celebration of memories, growth, and shared experiences. Over the years, these young stars have filled the school corridors with laughter, hard work, creativity, and leadership. They have been an inspiration to juniors and a source of pride for teachers.

I express my deepest gratitude to the graduating batch for their dedication, perseverance, and the positive mark they leave behind. As they step into the future, may they continue to soar high, embrace new challenges, and carry forward the values of DPS Kalyanpur.

To the Class of 2025: May your journey ahead be as bright and promising as the memories you leave with us. Your legacy will forever inspire the generations to come.

With best wishes,

Ms. Mahi Kapil

Bidding farewell is emotional, it is hard. Yet for future opportunities, we shall have to part. Good luck for endeavours ahead. Don't forget to strive. Hard work is the rule for success to thrive.

Best of Luck!

Ms. Simran Kaur Bhatti

Dear students,

As you prepare to move forward, I urge you to face the future with courage, discipline, and faith in your abilities. Exams may test your knowledge, but your true worth will always lie in the strength of your character. Treasure the memories you've created here, and let them inspire you to aim higher and dream bigger.

This chapter may be ending, but it opens the door to new opportunities. Step ahead with confidence, for your knowledge, values, and hard work will continue to guide you. Watching you grow has been a journey filled with joy and pride, and you will always hold a special place in our hearts. Our blessings will walk with you wherever you go. May your future be bright, meaningful, and filled with countless moments that make you shine.

Mr. Lokesh Kumar Juneja

Dear Students,

As you move forward, know that I am genuinely proud of your hard work, resilience, and willingness to learn even on those "tough" exam days. The boards are just a stepping stone; believe in yourself, keep practicing, and don't be afraid to make mistakes. Remember, every challenge is an opportunity to discover your strength.

Carry with you not just formulas and theorems, but also the confidence that you can solve any problem in mathematics, or in life. I wish you happiness, success, and a future filled with fulfillment.

Never stop learning, you have all that it takes to shine.

With lots of love and blessings,

Mr. Rajeev Kumar Gupta

Dear Students,

As you prepare to step beyond these familiar walls, I wish to remind you that every ending is also a new beginning. The years you have spent here have been more than a journey of academics; they have been a time of growth, discovery, and self-realisation. It has been a privilege to witness your enthusiasm, creativity, and the spark of individuality that each one of you has brought into our classrooms.

As you bid farewell to your alma mater, step into the world with confidence, kindness and curiosity. I hope you continue to make us proud in your chosen paths.

With warm regards and every good wish for your future,

Ms. Suparna Mishra

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world."

-Nelson Mandela

Dear Students,

As you step beyond the walls of this school, may you continue to uphold the values of discipline, integrity, and kindness that this institution has instilled in you. Remember, true success lies not just in achievements, but in the positive impact you create in the lives of others. It has been a great privilege to teach you all during this journey. Over the years, I have witnessed your growth, not only in academics but also as individuals ready to embrace the challenges of life.

I wish you all success in your board examinations and beyond. May your future be filled with endless possibilities and meaningful achievements.

With heartfelt blessings,

Ms. Alisha Rais

"Our Spaces, Our Stories"

Where Our Journey Began – The Pre-Primary Block

This courtyard is where it all truly started for us, friendships, the tiny shoes, tiny bags, and hearts full of excitement. From learning our first lessons in those colourful classrooms to waiting every week for games period, this place was filled with a joy only childhood can hold. We played here without a worry, turning this red floor into our little world.

During Panorama and major events, this courtyard became even more special. The laughter, the rush, the delicious buffet we waited for, and the green rooms where we stuffed our bags and shared endless stories, all added to its charm.

This was not just a starting point; it was a space where we first felt free, where friendships began, and where school slowly started feeling like home. Even today, one look at this block brings back a thousand memories we did not know we were holding.

The Canteen Chronicles

For years, our canteen was not just a place to grab food; it was where half our school memories were made. From fighting over the last Chinese samosa to sharing a plate of garlic chowmein during the short break, every moment here became a part of growing up. Birthday treats, long queues, the desperate "Bhaiya, jaldi do na!" before the bell rang, the jokes, the gossip, and the laughter bouncing off those colourful pillars all of it shaped our school days in ways we never realised. Long after the textbooks are forgotten, the taste of these moments and the friendships built over them will always stay with every DIPSITE who ever sat here.

The library Diaries

The library was the quietest place that was never really quiet. We would sit pretending to read, sharing silent laughs that said more than words ever could. We explored corners we had never been to, picked the heaviest books we could find, and promised ourselves we would finish them, only to be caught napping a few pages in. Issuing books we would return the next session became a ritual of its own. Between the rustle of pages and whispered jokes, the library was not just about reading; it was about moments we will always remember.

The Skating Rink Stories

The skating rink has always been one of the happiest spots on campus, the place we ran to during activity periods, slipping, balancing, and laughing our way through every lap. But this rink became even more special during Panorama. Every year, it transformed into a space full of colour and excitement. Painting the big "Panorama" logo under the sun, watching it slowly take shape, and ruining our uniforms with paint stains became memories we still smile at. And the flash mob rehearsals, where almost no one knew how to dance but everyone danced their heart out, were unforgettable. This rink didn't just host activities; it held moments that became lifelong memories.

The Ground That Held Our Childhood

The school ground has always been the place where our best memories came to life. Running out here during breaks with our friends, laughing, playing, and forgetting the world for a while felt like pure freedom. During games period, we were supposed to go to our assigned sports, but somehow we always ended up roaming the ground until the games teachers reminded us where we actually belonged. This field has seen everything, from Inter DPS Football tournaments and Panorama evenings to those quiet moments after a long day when we would sit together, talking about anything and everything. This ground didn't just host events; it held the friendships and memories that shaped who we became.

Where Every Story Echoed – The DPS Auditorium

The auditorium has always been more than just a hall; it is where our school life truly unfolded. Assemblies meant whispered jokes, cross-legged lines, and smiles we tried to hide. During games period, it became our badminton arena, filled with gossip, teasing, and endless "best of three" battles. Panorama brought long rehearsals, snacks on the stairs, and memories that still make us smile. For the Student Council, this was the beginning of the badges, the oath, and the first step onto the stage. Year after year, this same hall stood with pride as it bid farewell to its students, watching them walk out with dreams bigger than the stage itself. This auditorium holds our laughter, our chaos, and the moments that shaped who we are today.

LETTERS WE LEAVE

“

“Every ending is a quiet beginning, may the next page be written in brighter ink.”
– Aaradhya Tewari
XII-S4

”

“

“Hard to believe these classrooms won't be our everyday anymore. We laughed here, grew up here, and found our people here. No matter where life takes us, these years stay special.”
– Aarush Bhatia
XII-C2

”

“

“Walking away from school feels strange, like closing a chapter I wasn't ready to finish. The laughter, the chaos, the people who became a part of me, I'm carrying all of it with me.”
– Anushka Dwivedi
XII-S1

”

“

“We came as strangers, grew as friends, and now are leaving as a family. We arrived as blank pages, we leave as a story worth telling. Thanks to all for the love and chaos.”
– Aryash Dwivedi
XII-C2

”

“

“Could I be any more done with school? Yet here I am, holding a bandwidth of memories that I know I'll look back on fondly.”
– Fariha Kashef
XII-H1

”

“

“From running in the corridors with red walls to running towards our dreams, knowing it will always lead us to our home again.”
– Divyankit Manchanda
XII-S6

”

“

“Years may pass and paths may change, but these corridors will forever echo our stories, etched in the heart of batch'26.”
– Gauri Damele
XII-H1

”

“

“Having faith in yourself can get you places. We've all learned that the hard days don't define us, what does is the courage to trust our own potential. Here's to believing bigger, wherever we go next.”
– Hridhhi Srivastava
XII-H1

”

“

“Eventually, we all become memories. I'm grateful that when I am remembered, it carries warmth, rhythm, and moments that held meaning.”
– Syon Bhattacharjee
XII-S5

”

“

“It's hard to leave a place that gave me friends, memories, and just enough trauma to laugh about later. I'll miss this chapter, even the weird parts.”
– Shaurya Gujral
XII-C2

”

“

“These corridors watched me grow from giggles to goodbyes, from first steps to forever memories, carrying laughter, lessons, and love within me.”
– Mehak Agarwal
XII-C3

”

“

“The laughter, the mistakes, the friendships, every piece of it shaped the person I am now.”
– Mehul Kalwani
XII-S5

”

“

“It's hard to leave a place that gave me friends, memories, and moments I'll never forget. School wasn't always perfect, but it was ours, and I'll miss every bit of it.”
– Kaveesh Jashnani
XII-C3

”

“

“From the playgrounds to the classrooms, these walls have seen me grow from a kid into who I am today. I'll miss every second spent here. Thank you to the whole DPSK fraternity, and all the best to my fellow classmates as you step into college and new adventures ahead.”
– Pranjal Mishra
XII-S1

”

“

“With every passing moment, memories form quietly in the background, until you look up and realise school life has reached its final season.”
– Raghav Ji Dwivedi
XII-S3

”

“

“When I look back, I don't see days, I see moments stitched into who I've become.”
– Samridhhi Chowdhary
XII-S2

”

“

“Leaving school feels unreal. It's crazy how we waited to leave, but now we just want to stay a little bit longer. It's time to leave, but my notebooks are still pending. School seemed to be boring but it turned out to be the best plot twist ever! Time flies, but memories stick. Forever grateful for the chaos we call school life!”
– Shrashti Sharma
XII-H1

”

“

“They say your heart feels empty because you leave small pieces of yourself in the things you love, and there's definitely a huge piece of me missing now.”
– Shatakshi Agrawal
XII-C2

”

“

“Leaving school feels like closing a chapter filled with laughter, lessons, friendships, and memories that I will treasure for life. I'm excited to move forward, yet a part of me wants to hold onto the comfort of everything I'm leaving behind. The goodbye may be bittersweet but the memories will stay with me always!”
– Shivangi Sahgal
XII-C3

”

“

“Having faith in yourself can get you places. We've all learned that the hard days don't define us, what does is the courage to trust our own potential. Here's to believing bigger, wherever we go next.”
– Hridhhi Srivastava
XII-H1

”

“

“One day we all become memories. I'm just grateful that when people remember me, my presence will sound like music full of warmth, rhythm, and moments that meant something.”
– Hemant Sharma
XII-H1

”

“

“It's hard to leave a place that gave us not just lessons, but people who became my second home.”
– Soumya Barik
XII-S1

”

“

“Saying goodbye isn't easy, but it's part of the journey. I want to thank all my friends, all my teachers, and the non-teaching staff for helping me throughout these years.”
– Aishveer Singh
XII-C1

”

“

“This school has given me some of the best memories of my life. I learned many things, made amazing friends, and met teachers who always guided and supported me. Their lessons and encouragement have helped me grow and believe in myself. As this journey comes to an end, I feel truly thankful to all my teachers and excited to start a new chapter ahead.”
– Tanmay Singh
XII-S5

”

“

“I've spent years calculating who I am, testing my engines against doubt and time. These halls became my orbit, holding me until I learned how to fly. Now the horizon calls, and for the first time, the stars feel within reach.”
– Yashvardhan Vishwakarma
XII-S3

”

“

“This school gave us friendships that turned into family and moments that turned into memories. Wherever life takes us, a part of us will always stay here. In these classrooms where we laughed, in these corridors where we dreamed, and in this campus that shaped who we are. This school wasn't just a place we studied in, it was a place that taught us life.”
– Vriti Arora
XII-S4

”

“

“Leaving hurts only because this place meant more than I ever said out loud.”
– Tanisha Lakhwani
XII-H1

”

“

“Time passed and everything changed, but the memories made here will never fade. This school was never just a place, it was a part of who I became.”
– Urvi Mehra
XII-C3

”

“

“As the final bell gets closer, I realise it isn't just the end of school, it's the end of a chapter where I laughed, learned, and slowly became my best self.”
– Yash Sahani
XII-C2

”

The Memories Wall

The Memories Wall

QUOTE FROM MUSE EDITORIAL TEAM -

"As you step into worlds beyond our sight, may the light of these years stay with you, soft, steady and always enough to guide you back home."

-Team Muse

CREDENTIALS

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Dear Students,

As you step into your undergraduate journey, I extend my heartfelt wishes for success and fulfilment. Guided by our motto "Service Before Self," your years at DPS Kalyanpur have nurtured in you not only academic strength but also resilience, empathy and the ability to take on challenges with confidence. Carry forward the values you've imbibed, the bonds you've built and the skills you've mastered. May you continue to learn with curiosity, lead with humility, and serve with purpose. Once a Dipsite, always a Dipsite.

With joy and blessings,
Dr. Richa Prakash,
Principal

CHIEF PATRON

Dear Students,

Wishing you the very best for your board exams! Believe in yourself, stay calm, and give your best. You have worked hard all year and now is the time to excel. May your efforts bring outstanding results. All the very best.

Mrs. Mae Hussain

Dear Students,

As you begin your board examinations, remind yourself of your strength, preparation, and potential. Rely on the efforts you have invested and approach every paper with confidence. Those who believe in their journey achieve success. Wishing you confidence, composure, and excellent results. Best wishes!

Ms. Khushi Gupta
Designer

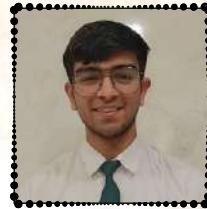

"How lucky I am to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard." — A.A. Milne

Stepping away from this farewell edition and Grade 12 feels bittersweet, but there's a certain ecstasy in knowing we're moving toward new beginnings. I'm truly thankful for the experiences Muse has given me and for how much I've grown while being part of it. Thank you to the entire team for your effort and creativity, and a heartfelt thank-you to our teachers and principal for their guidance and support. As we move into the next chapter, I wish everyone courage, confidence, and countless opportunities.

Fariha Kashef
XII-H1
Editor-in-Chief

This final chapter of muse feels strangely unreal. It feels like the year ended while I was still finding the right headline. Being part of this newsletter wasn't loud or dramatic, but it was mine, and I am glad I got to leave a small fingerprint on these pages. To the juniors stepping in: don't worry, the legacy isn't as intimidating as it sounds! Just stay curious, stay honest and the rest follows. And to my batchmates, I hope life treats you with kindness and the sort of moments that make you pause, smile and find your own little muse all along the way.

Mehul Kalwani
XII-S5
Editor-in-Chief

Working on the Farewell edition of the Muse 2025–26 gave me immense pleasure, bidding a final goodbye to all our beloved seniors with a token of love, respect, and affection. Reading through all the teachers' write-ups and looking forward to gathering the memories we shared together made me emotional, and I feel gratified by my contribution to their final memory, which they will take along in their life as they pass out from the school. Being the Editor for this edition, I would like to extend my gratitude towards the Chief Patron and the Editors-in-Chief for trusting me and for providing me with this opportunity. I would also like to thank my Co-Editor, who really helped me a lot throughout this journey. Last but not the least, thank you to all the correspondents and illustrators who made this journey really memorable.

Pavitra Verma
XI-S4
Editor

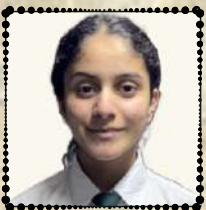

Concluding this edition of Muse feels like walking through a year of memories, each one too precious to forget. Saying goodbye to the Batch of 2025–26 is heavier than I ever imagined. You brought laughter, warmth, and a quiet strength that will linger long after you leave for college and the wider world. As you move forward, may the world welcome you with the same grace and generosity you brought to this community, and may your story continue to unfold with purpose, courage, and unwavering light.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Team Muse and the editorial board for their constant support and creativity. Thank you for the moments, the inspiration, and for teaching us the value of discipline, hard work, and perseverance. Wishing you joy, success, and fulfillment in every future endeavor.

Gargi Sharma
XI-C3
Editor

This edition held soft goodbyes within, whispering warmth and leaving echoes in my heart. I know goodbyes are hard, yet your laughter and our memories linger like a quiet song in my heart.

Ridhi Lakhmani
XI-C1
Correspondent

Being part of the Muse Farewell Edition has been a special experience. I'm grateful to the team for making the process smooth, fun, and meaningful.

To the seniors, thank you for the memories and the inspiration you've given us. Wishing you all the best as you move ahead, may your next chapter be even brighter.

Anaya Srivastava
XI-S1
Correspondent

This edition is filled with heartfelt messages, each carrying deep emotion and meaning, offering a glimpse into what this journey has meant to every student.

May you excel in every endeavour, and continue to inspire us all. Wishing you joy, growth, and all the very best as you begin this new chapter.

Grace Kaur
X-J
Correspondent

Saying goodbye to Class 12 feels like closing a chapter that shaped a huge part of my school life. Through the camera, I got the chance to capture your journeys, your events, your achievements, your laughter, your energy and every last-minute rush that turned into a memory. Thank you for trusting me behind the lens, for giving me a space to grow, and for turning my photos into stories that reached the whole school. I'll always be grateful for the experiences, the friendships, and the memories we created together.

Kabeer Katiyar
XI-H1
Illustrator

A sense of elation lingers within me, knowing my art sits beside your last moments in school that my colours might live on in the stories you carry. Thank you for letting my creation become a part of your memories.

Ana Dwivedi
XI H1
Illustrator